The workshop mostly focusing on Gender awareness started off great with an understanding of and difference between Gender and sex. Followed by with a good synergy between facts and light hearted humor, the audience was introduced to concepts of patriarchy, gender equality and gender equity Gender identity, gender expression as well as language as a gendered feature was spoken about briefly by a team member, Kartik. Being a feminine presenting and associating as a trans, Kartiks words provided a deeper insight into the concerns.

The 9&As and an open platform for audience made the workshop truly inclusive with regard to opinions and ideas Concluding with an understanding of gender congruence, the workshop effectively fulfilled its sensitization aim and standing firm on its stance on non obligatory acceptance of self and others
